HOUSE WARMING

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MATHIS ENTERTAIN FORMER TENNESSEEANS WITH BIG DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. John Mathis and daughters who have recently purchased property at 727 South Maryland Avenue had a house warming and entertained a large group of friends Thursday evening with a big dinner of the good old Southern type. Their home was beautifully decorated with jonquils and ferns, and the dinner of several courses including smoked hams prepared in Southern style, was served about 7 p. m. It was followed by a social evening. Guests entertained were: Mrs. J. T. Griffin, Jessie and Jim Griffin, Mrs. M. Algee, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Alexander and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart, Clyde, Mamie and Paul Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Le Duke, Mr. and Mrs. Hearn Robinson and son, Teddy, Mrs. M. T. Hatcher, her daughter, Loraine Hatcher, and son, Orbie Hatcher, Henry Hatcher from Yucaipa Valley, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Aexander and daughter, Juanita. All of the families represented formerly resided in Tennessee and all have bought homes in Glendale within the past year except the Hearn Robinsons, who have been here eight years and who have been largely instrumental in drawing their friends to this city.

FRIENDS FROM MINNESOTA

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dickman of 632 East Harvard Street are having the pleasure of entertaining friends from Minnesota—Mrs. F. Baster, from Windom and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Marshall from Plainview. The Marshalls have just come up from San Diego where they have been spending the winter and will leave for home in a few days. Mrs. Baster will remain until the weather warms up in the gopher state. The Dickmans came from Minnesota, Mrs. Dickman having attended Carlton College at Northfield.

J. E. PETERS ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

J. E. Peters of 209 North Orange Street has announced to his friends that he will be a candidate for the office of City Trustee of Glendale at the election next April. Mr. Peters has been closely identified with the business interests of Glendale for many years, being at present the owner of a beautiful residence property on Orange Street and also of a business block on North Brand Boulevard. Mr. Peters was a candidate for a like position four years ago and formed a very favorable acquaintance with the residents of the city at that time.

GUESTS FROM NEBRASKA

Mr. and Mrs. William Bauermaster of Omaha, Neb., have been guests of Mrs. A. H. Donecken of Los Feliz Road for the past week and will probably be with her for a week longer. Mr. Bauermaster, who conducts a large restaurant in Omaha, is very much taken with Glendale, and is tempted to dispose of his business interests in the Nebraska city and come here to live. He is making a thorough inspection of our little city and Mrs. Donecken hopes he will eventually locate here.

PRESBYTERIANS BUSY

WOMEN'S SOCIETY MAKES LARGE PLANS FOR APRIL INGATHERING

The teachers and officers of the Presbyterian Sabbath School met Thursday evening to enjoy a most delicious supper served by Mrs. W. J. Smith and her associates of the Work Department of the Women's Society, and to talk over and make definite plans on a large scale for the Easter ingathering according to the plan set forth by the New Era Movement. Mr. H. L. Finlay, Superintendent of the Sunday School, presided. Rev. W. E. Edmonds gave a concise report of the Interchurch Movement carrying a billion and half dollars world program for evangelism. Methods were discussed for the local church and goals set for a definite part in this great undertaking. The evening was very informal, and the meeting closed promptly at nine o'clock, with every one ready to start actual work the next day.

FORMER RESIDENTS

R. R. DAVIS TELLS OF PROSPERITY OF FISH AND WOOD FAMILIES IN PERRIS VALLEY

R. R. Davis of 410 North Adams Street has just returned from Perris Valley where he has been building an attractive and substantial home for Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fish, who formerly lived on Lexington Drive, this city, and who left here in January to take up their residence on ten acres they own in Perris Valley which they purchased five years ago and set to deciduous fruit which is now in bearing. Before leaving here Mrs. Fish won Mr. Davis' consent to come to them and build her house. He found it a very pleasant experience, and beneficial to his health, the nearness to the foothills agreeing with him. Mr. Davis had to start at the bottom and put in the foundation of the house. One hundred and thirty sacks of cement were required for the foundation and the floor of a porch. For the lumber which went into the structure the Fishs had to pay $130 a thousand, but they now have a very good and attractive house, with which few in the valley can compare, at a cost of between $4000 and $5000. Their nine acres of fruit now in bearing netted them between $1500 and $2000 last summer and they are expecting even better returns the coming season.

Another former Glendalian whom Mr. Davis met was L. A. Wood, who in 1914 lived on South Orange St. Mr. Wood has ten wonderful acres of fruit which are said to have netted him $2500 last year. He has another ten acres coming on and at the time Mr. Davis talked with him he was negotiating for another five acres.

Mr. Davis says it is one of the most beautiful valleys he has seen in a long time. When he inquired about summer temperatures he was told it is quite warm there at that season but that farmers work in the early morning and late afternoon and are not very active in the middle of the day. He found that chickens, in which he is particularly interested, are allowed to run in the orchards and their keep does not cost as much as here. Riverside, which is about 24 miles away and Beaumont—fifteen miles distant—afford them good markets for all products. The visitor developed so much enthusiasm for ranch life it is not impossible that he and his wife will follow their friends to Perris Valley should conditions favor making the change.

SCHOOL ELECTION

LARGER VOTE THAN USUAL BEING POLLED AT TODAY'S SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

A live interest is being taken in today's school bond election. It is a real stimulus for the course of education to have a friendly stir-up at an election such as is taking place today.

Too often school elections receive scarcely a passing notice, and then the Board of Trustees are held responsible for conditions for which the people of the district are responsible.

Those of us who have been of the opinion that Brand Boulevard is not the proper place for school buildings will have a clear conscience in knowing that we have done all within our power to prevent the building being placed there. No citizen of Glendale need fear at any time that the Evening News is opposed to what is for the good of the public schools. So greatly are we in favor of thorough work in the schools that at times we may be prone to criticize the laxness of those in charge.

MICHIGAN TOURISTS

Mrs. John G. Dean of 719 North Central Avenue and two of her children are going to Elsinore to spend the week-end with Mrs. Dean's father, S. W. Corwin, who formerly lived in this city. Mrs. Dean is greatly enjoying the visits she is having with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey of Albion, Mich., who are spending the winter in Glendale and residing at 400 West Oak St. Mr. Godfrey is a player of quoits and takes great interest in the Horse Shoe Club. It is the first visit he and his wife have paid to Southern California and they are enjoying it thoroughly.

WEATHER FORECAST: Unsettled weather, probable showers tonight and Saturday.

ILLINOISAN LOCATES

W. B. DAVIS BUYS ACREAGE FOR HOME, NURSERY, HOTHOUSES, GARDENS

W. B. Davis of Aurora, Ill., who has spent two winters in Glendale, has become so well pleased with its many attractions that he has decided to become a citizen. With this end in view he has recently purchased M. P. Harrison's tract of fifteen acres in the Grandview district and the five acres adjoining it on the west. This acreage lies along the north side of the San Fernando Road and is about a quarter of a mile west of the pumping plant. Mr. Davis will erect a fine residence facing on the San Fernando Road and surround it with large grounds which will be set to choice fruit trees and ornamental shrubbery. The remainder of the acreage will be devoted to an up-to-date nursery, with hothouses for the growing of a winter supply of vegetables, such as cucumbers, tomatoes, mushrooms and the like, and gardens for all the year 'round production of fruits and vegetables. Mr. Davis has been in the nursery and greenhouse business practically all his life in Illinois and now has a chain of such establishments in that state, the one at Aurora representing an investment of $150,000. He will go back to Aurora in a few weeks to arrange his business affairs so he can return to Glendale this summer to commence the improvements on his new purchase. In the two winters he has lived in Glendale Mr. Davis has studied the city's business life very closely and while he expresses himself as delighted with everything here he says three things are greatly needed, namely: A passenger and freight depot for the S. P. somewhere near Broadway, a large modern hotel and a first class apartment building. These would bring thousands of new people to Glendale, he says, many of whom would locate, and the population and value of property would be doubled in a few years.

This purchase by Mr. Davis, which was made through Doner & Hemenway, and the recent acquiring by A. Tasanao of ten acres in the same vicinity to be devoted to flower culture, show that Glendale's soil and climate are considered by experts as adapted to flower, vegetable and fruit culture on a large scale and that in a very short time this city will become a great shipping center for these products.

NEW COMERS FROM SALT LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Van Housen of Salt Lake City who have decided to make Southern California their home from this time on, have purchased the Cunningham property at 1320 North Maryland Avenue. After investigating the suburbs of Los Angeles they decided that Glendale offered more attractions thany any other locality. Mr. Van Housen is retiring from the superintendency of the Salt Lake Road in Salt Lake City, where he has been actively engaged in railroad affairs for many years. During the same period he has been interested in the sheep business in Wyoming.

ELEVATOR SHAFT 3300 FEET HIGH

Glendale visitors to Yosemite National Park will be interested in knowing that there is soon to be built there from the floor of the valley to the top of Glacier Point, 3300 feet, an elevator, which will be the highest in the world. The project has been approved by S. T. Mather, director of National Parks. The shaft, 9x13 feet in dimensions, will be drilled through solid rock for the entire distance and there will be a series of power driven elevators. The cost of the project will be in the neighborhood of $500,000, it is stated.

BOLD ROBBER QUICKLY CAPTURED

K. Kurihara, a Japanese living at 516 Riverdale Drive, was called to the door of his house Saturday night at about 10:30 and robbed at the point of a revolver of $20, which he carried in a small sack. Police headquarters was promptly notified and an officer put on the trail at once, resulting in the capture of the guilty party shortly afterward at the P. E. station. He proved to be Henry Pahland, a youth of 19 and he had the money on him, still in the sack. He also had a .32 caliber Colt's automatic, a pawn ticket for a watch, a letter from his sweetheart and a Citizen Seaman's identification card. He confessed his crime but evidently did not realize the seriousness of it, treating his arrest as a joke. He claims to have lived in the Tropico district for several years.

THEY MISS GLENDALE

MR. AND MRS. A. W. DICKINSON BUY HOME IN MERRITT DISTRICT, SAN FRANCISCO

A letter containing an account of the good and bad fortune Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dickinson have experienced since they left Glendale, has been received from Mrs. Dickinson from which the following is gleaned which will be of interest to their many friends here.

We left Glendale the first of the year when Mr. Dickinson, who was connected with the Los Angeles wholesale office of Marshall Field & Company of Chicago, was given charge of the San Francisco office in San Francisco.

Since our arrival we have bought a home in the Merritt Terrace district of San Francisco, and the past week have just brought our children home from the hospital. Marshall Bingham, who was ill with pneumonia, and Harriet Ann with bronchial-pneumonia and both are now gaining every day. While we miss Glendale and our friends very much, especially Mr. Dickinson's Elk associates, we are much interested in the furnishing of our new home, which by the way I might relate, unlike the typical San Francisco home, is blessed with a front yard and a lovely landscaped backyard with a profusion of flowers.

DR. GEO. MOSHER WRITES FROM AFRICA

Dr. Geo. E. Mosher, formerly of Glendale, who went out to Bolenge, Africa, with his wife, as a missionary last year, has written to the Christian Church here which contributes to his support and that of the other missionaries on the Congo field, telling of his work. He says he and his wife have suffered not at all from the heat since they arrived and that what shortens the life of all the missionaries there is not the heat but overwork, so eager are the natives to hear the gospel message. The work of the medical missionaries is especially heavy owing to the many hereditary diseases from which the natives suffer. He writes that Dr. Louis Pearson, the husband of Evelyn Utter, who lived in Glendale from 1908 to 1913, treated 318 patients in July, 550 in August, 996 in September and 987 in October.

AUTO COLLISIONS

FOUR OCCURRED SUNDAY, WITH LIGHT DAMAGES AND NO ONE HURT

R. N. Biglow of Los Angeles, driving east on Los Feliz Road, smashed into the San Fernando bus going north on San Fernando Road, crumpling up the running board on the left side and denting the side of the big machine. The radiator of Mr. Biglow's car was crushed in and the headlights smashed.

R. Fifield of 710 Orange Grove Avenue, while proceeding west on Wilson Avenue collided with the car of J. F. Gaster of Eureka, who was driving south on Kenwood, smashing his left running board and fender. Mr. Fifield's right running board and fender were considerably damaged.

Francis E. Wilkinson of 132 S. Adams, driving his car south on Maryland Avenue, and Mr. Cline, driving west on Broadway, came together at the crossing. The front bumper was pulled off of Wilkinson's machine and the rear right fender of Cline's damaged.

Two machines collided at Riverside Drive and Central Avenue and one lost a front wheel. The parties to this accident evidently settled the matter between themselves, as no report was made to police headquarters.

No one was hurt in any of these accidents.

DINNER FOR OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hunt of 1201 Viola Avenue entertained at dinner on Sunday for a group of old friends, covers being laid for nine—Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Show, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lane from Athens on the Hill, also Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Feinstein, the host and hostess, and their daughter, Miss Loie Hunt. Cherokee roses and hyacinths from Mrs. Hunt's garden were effectively used in decorating the home and table for the occasion. Following the dinner a pleasant social afternoon was enjoyed by the company.

Miss Geraldine Woollard and little brother, Gaylord, are spending a week in the home of their uncle, E. L. Rice, at San Bernardino.

TRAVELERS RETURN

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT HOLLAND ARRIVE FROM TOUR OF MIDDLE WEST

Robert Holland of the Worley-Holland Rug Company of Los Angeles and Mrs. Holland returned Monday from a combined business and pleasure tour of the Middle West lasting several months, in the course of which they investigated the market for their product in San Francisco, Chicago, St. Louis and other cities, incidentally visiting relatives in Missouri. They found their son, Robert Holland, Jr., confined to his bed from the effects of a very heavy cold. He is still not able to be up but is much better. Fortunately he has no symptoms of "flu." Everywhere they went during their travels they found business fine, merchants selling more than ever before and merchandise of all kinds hard to get. This was as true of El Paso, where they stopped to see friends, as it was of San Francisco and Chicago. Zero was the lowest temperature they experienced and in Chicago they ran into snow. For the most part the weather was fair, but the trip has confirmed their preference for Southern California. Mr. Holland was formerly in business in St. Louis and at times has thought it would be pleasant to return to that city, but he now says Los Angeles is a good enough business proposition for him and he is well contented to settle down there.

MISLEADING STATEMENT

The kind of publicity the Los Angeles City papers gives Glendale is usually the unfavorable kind and often in giving these reports they go out of their way to get the sensational embellishments.

Two days ago a morning paper put great stress upon the recent decision of a liquor case against the Glendale Elks' Lodge, making it appear to the uninformed that a real liquor bar had been conducted in the Elks' building until the National dry law went into effect. The truth of the whole matter is that liquor was never sold over a bar in the Elks' building and for more than two years liquor has not knowingly been allowed in the building. The rules of the order prohibit its use or presence in the building.

The case mentioned in the city papers had reference to a friendly suit that was brought against the order about three years ago. Stale news are dear morsels for city papers if there is something sensational and besmirching about them.

INDUSTRIAL MOVEMENT

BOARD OF TRUSTEES RECEIVES APPLICATIONS FOR PERMITS FOR TWO FACTORIES

Movement has begun in the industrial line in Glendale. At the meeting of the Board of City Trustees Thursday evening J. E. Carpenter appeared before the Board asking for a permit to locate in the industrial zone an art tile factory. He explained that his company is planning to purchase four or five acres on San Fernando Road near Park Avenue in the expectation of investing about $100,000 in its plant; that it expects to employ about eighty skilled mechanics and to manufacture art tile and glazed ware of heroic proportions. In the course of his explanation he stated that manufactured materials of this sort before the war were almost entirely imported, but that during the war experiments were made at a plant at Vernon, where a practical and economical process was worked out which the company now wishes to make use of in a large plant. The proposed site was selected because of its nearness to the railroad and also because San Fernando Road will be an excellent location for the large display room which the company intends to make a part of its plant. Mr. Carpenter made a favorable impression on the Board and the permit was granted.

Another applicant for a factory permit who came before the Board was L. W. Russell, who asked the right to establish a furniture fac-

TRUSTEES' MEETING

ATTORNEYS McBRYDE AND WOODARD REPRESENT PROTESTANTS IN ALLEY CLOSING

The Board assembled at eight o'clock p. m. February 26, 1920. All members were present except Trustee Woodberry.

The minutes of the regular meeting of February 13, 1920, were read and approved. The minutes of the meeting of February 19, 1920, were read and a correction ordered to be made on page 611, inserting in the last line after "City Emergency Hospital" the words "at the rates adopted by the city." With this correction the minutes were approved.

Communication was read from L. W. Russell, manager of the Russell Furniture Manufacturing Company, asking for a permit to manufacture furniture in the building owned by Major Payne, located at the corner of Central Avenue and San Fernando Road. On motion of Trustee Shaw the communication was referred to the City Manager to report upon at the next meeting of the Board.

Mr. J. E. Carpenter appeared before the Board making an oral request for a permit to build and occupy a one-story frame building on San Fernando Road at the corner of Park Avenue, to be used for a display room and other purposes, in connection with the process for the manufacture of clay products. Action was temporarily deferred until the application could be presented in writing.

A gentleman residing in the neighborhood of Windsor Road and Glendale Avenue called the attention of the Board to an abandoned well on a lot on the southwest corner of those streets, requesting that the same be filled up or fenced in as a measure of safety. The City Manager volunteered to attend to the matter.

DEATH OF IRENE LANCASTER

The death of Irene Lancaster of Sunland is a grief to many old friends and classmates in this city where she attended Union High School and was graduated in June, 1916. She was one of the most popular girls of her class and because she was so well liked and "such a good mixer" she was offered a position in the office of the school which she filled when she returned for a post-graduate course in the spring of 1917. She gave such satisfaction that she was asked to return in the fall, but said she had promised to assist her father. Mr. and Mrs. Moyse of the High School characterized her as "a lovely girl, winsome as could be, who had a host of friends in the school."

SCHOOLS WILL NOT REOPEN MONDAY

Inquiry at the office of Dr. Eckles, City Health Officer, revealed that he will not authorize the reopening of the Glendale schools next Monday. While for several days in the early part of the week there was a noticeable improvement in the influenza situation, the reports of new cases Thursday morning convinced him that as a precautionary measure it will be better to prolong the embargo a few days than to lift it prematurely and then be forced to close the schools again.

JUBILEE SINGERS

OLD-FASHIONED PLANTATION MELODIES AND BALLADS ENTERTAIN METHODISTS

The Central Avenue Methodist Church was well filled Thursday night in response to the invitation of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society under whose auspices a very nice entertainment was furnished by singers from the Los Angeles Wesleyan Chapel (colored) who came out and sang old-fashioned plantation melodies and ballads and gave a few readings. The proceeds were applied on the subscription made by the society to the church debt, the sum realized being $28. The church debt has now all been subscribed and the payments thereon are being met in a very satisfactory manner, reports the pastor, Rev. F. Marion Smith, who with his wife is doing much to stimulate interest and build up the church.

DAINTY DRAPERIES

Most women notice the draperies first of all when they go into a strange house.

Draperies add so much to the appearance of the room if they harmonize with the other furnishings and are clean and fresh and in good condition. And they detract just as much if they are soiled, worn or faded.

We have such good values in scrims, marquisettes, art draperies and curtain materials of all kinds that many women are taking advantage of them to brighten up their rooms.

You will want new draperies in at least some of your rooms this spring. Why not get them now? You will be surprised at the quality when you hear the price.

You can't get better values any where

Business in the Home

The business man is quick to install all kinds of labor-saving appliances in his office, knowing that anything that saves his time or that of his employes is saving money.

The up-to-date housewife adopts business methods in her home. She knows that her health and strength are above money value to her family and that anything that lightens her labors is worth more than it costs.

That is why women are turning to electricity and adding all manner of electrical appliances to their housekeeping equipment.

Wouldn't an electric washer or a Vacuum Cleaner add a lot to the pleasure of your life by taking the drudgery and the unpleasant features out of wash day and sweeping day?

HERE'S A TRUTHFUL KID

"Lillian," said mother severely, "there were two pieces of cake in the pantry this morning, and now there is only one. How does this happen?" "I don't know," said Lillian, regretfully, "It must have been so dark that I didn't see the other piece."

AHEAD OF TIME

"Your wife seems to be an up-to-date woman."

"Huh! She's away ahead of the date. Why, she has a lot of trouble borrowed for next year."

THE NET RESULTS

"Wife ever get an economical streak?"

"She does. Only last summer she figured out she could save eight dollars in one week by doing her own housework."

"How did it work out?"

"She got a cook book, I got dyspepsia, and the doctor got the eight dollars."

Two middle aged English women were talking of the war and the means they'd adopt to earn a living, should married men be forced to join the army. "Well," said one, "if the worst should come, I can keep the wolf from the door by singing." "Marie, you can," said the matron very earnestly; "that is, if the wolf has a correct ear for music."

A little boy who had to be on the train over night slept in an upper berth in the sleeping car. In the night he awakened and sat up. "Do you know where you are, Bobby?" asked his mother. "Course I do," answered Bobby, promptly. "I'm in the top drawer."

He explained to her as nicely as he could that the purchase of a new hat was out of the question. "I can't raise $50—that's all there is to that! I got a notice from my bank this morning that I had overdrawn!" "Well, try some other bank. They can't all be overdrawn."

"What impressed you as the most remarkable thing about the war?" asked a Red Cross canteen girl of a doughboy.

"The number of bullets that missed me, ma'am."

"The wicked stand in slippery places."

"How do you know they are wicked?"

"By the language they use when they slip."

GEE WHIZ! HE WAS RIGHT!

In a crowded omnibus a stout lady vainly endeavored to get her fare out of the pocket of her cloak, which was tightly buttoned as a protection to pickpockets. After she had been trying without effect for some minutes, a gentleman seated on her right said:

"Please, allow me to pay your fare."

The lady declined with some anger, and renewed her attacks on the pocket. After some little time the gentleman again said:

"You really must let me pay your fare. You have already unbuttoned my suspenders three times, and I can't stand it any longer!"

An Irish farmer, waking up in the night, saw an apparition at the foot of the bed. He reached out for a gun and perforated the ghost with a bullet. In the morning he discovered that he had made a target of his own shirt. "What did you do then?" inquired the friend to whom he told the story. "I knelt down and thanked God that I hadn't been inside it," said the farmer.—Onward.

NATURAL MISTAKE

Gerty Giddigad called the new maid and said tartly:

"If you don't improve, Marie, I shall have to dispense with your services."

"But I do my best," Marie insisted.

"Yesterday afternoon you insulted a friend of mine."

"Why I never even—"

"When Uriah Umson called for me with his golf outfit he said you slammed the door in his face."

"Was that a golf bag he had?"

"Yes."

"I'm sorry, Miss, but I thought he was an umbrella mender."

We may not all become good talkers, but if that gift has been denied us any of us can learn to be a good listener, an acquirement that not only brings pleasure and comfort to others, but also becomes a source of intellectual revenue to ourselves. A good talker may win admiration, a really good listener is apt to win friendship.

Diner—"Is there soup on the bill of fare?"

Waiter—"There was, sir, but I wiped it off."

Virginia planned a party,
To be a big affair.
All the upper ten of Glendale
Were invited to be there.

The girls were simply crazy
About Virginia's plans.
They talked of gowns and slippers,
Of jewelry and fans.

The men were not so thoughtful
Except a very few.
Stanley, Jack and Henry
Knew what they'd have to do.

In justice to Virginia
They had to look quite smart,
And so they went to Berman's
And Berman did his part.

On the night of the party
These three boys made a hit.
They looked so smart and manly
The girls all fell for it.

And Sam and John and Leslie
Were greatly at a loss.
They asked, "How do you do it,
Put such a stunt across?"

"We'll share with you our secret,"
The three then kindly said.
"We're popular this evening,
For our clothes are Berman-made."

UP-TO-DATE GEOGRAPHY

Geography, taught as a college course and as a social science, is a popular subject at the University of Wisconsin. Formerly geography meant the study of physiography, meteorology, climatology, mapping and cartography. Today, it has divided itself into economic, historical and political geography.

The purpose of this new attitude toward an old subject is to train well-informed, broad-minded, cosmopolitan men, giving them a basis for understanding international affairs and world movements. History is supposed to do this, but frequently only one period is covered; and rarely does the teaching reach present-day history.

It is undoubtedly true that geography is closly allied with historical development. It is also true that mountains, rivers, plains and other geographical features have had definite influence on the territorial expansion of nations. Indirectly geography must also have a bearing on the political, economic and industrial development of countries.

Thus a course in geography, designed for students of college grade, does well to include an outline of the economic policies of nations, the development of boundary lines and new nations, the geographical aspects of politics, international movements, and the distribution of races. Agricultural geography explains the relationship between farming and national development, commercial geography the relationship between nations.

That the subject is appealing to young men and women is shown in the fact that 1200 students have enrolled in such courses at the university this year, doubling the enrollment of the last year preceding the war.

MONROE DOCTRINE IS BRIEF

Every member of the United States senate and the house of representatives that has held office since 1823 has at some time or other discussed the Monroe doctrine. There is not a person in the country today who has not heard of that famous document. During the past year it has perhaps been the subject of more discussion than at any previous time. The indications are that it will be discussed considerably during the present year.

Comparatively few people, however, have ever taken the trouble to read it, being under the impression that it is of great length. As a matter of fact, it contains only 202 words. It was contained in President Monroe's message to congress a little more than ninety-six years ago—December 2, 1823, in the following words:

"In the discussion to which this interest has given rise, and in the arrangements by which they may terminate, the occasion has been deemed proper for asserting, as a principle in which rights and interests of the United States are involved, that the American continents, by the free and independent condition which they have assumed and maintain, are henceforth not to be considered as subjects for future colonization of any European power. We owe it therefore to candor and to the amicable relations existing between the United States and those powers to declare that we should consider any attempt on their part to extend their system to any portion of this hemisphere as dangerous to our peace and safety. With the existing colonies or dependencies of any European power we have not interfered and shall not interfere. But with the governments who have declared their independence and maintain it, and whose independence we have, on great consideration and on just principles, acknowledged, we could not view any interposition for the purpose of oppressing them or controlling in any other manner their destiny by any European power in any other light than as the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States."

Y. W. C. A. CARES FOR SOLDIERS' PARENTS

An American father went overseas recently in search of his soldier son who was reported A. W. O. L. in Switzerland when his family last heard from him a year ago. A letter just received at National Headquarters of the Y. W. C. A. in New York, from Mrs. Nora Welch Crump, director of the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House at the Argonne Cemetery at Romagne, France, where 22,000 American soldiers are buried, tells of his search.

"When he got to Paris he was sent to the Graves Registration Service," Mrs. Crump writes. "They looked up his son's name and found that he was among the dead here in the Argonne Cemetery. The father was stunned and helpless. The strange country and the language they do not understand adds cruelly to the load of misery these sorrowing parents have to bear. When this father arrived at Romagne, after riding all the way from Paris on a truck with a casket for his son's body, his gratitude at finding a Hostess House with American women here was pathetic. He staid three days for the reburial in the new casket and seemed a little comforted when he went away.

"This cemetery is eight miles from the nearest railway—an hour's bus ride through one of the most desolate regions of devastated France. People are very depressed when they arrive. The Hostess House is the only place where they can find food, shelter and privacy. We try to furnish what comfort we can in the shape of a warm meal, a cheerful fire, and an American welcome.

"We never know how many people are coming in any one day, nor what we may be called upon to do. One dear old man from a little town in Wisconsin had been told he could take his son's body home. When he found he could not he was heart-broken. After his son's body had been reburied in a new casket, he wanted a service at the grave, as it would mean so much to his wife. We managed it, somehow, with some singing and a few verses from the Bible, and he was satisfied. He said it 'rested his soul to be with American women.'"

TUT, TUT, JUDGE!

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago, in a speech before the American Protective League, declared with vehemence:

"What we need is a new definition of treason; then we could use the side of a barn for those who would destroy the government!"

The judge lumped Socialists, I. W. W.'s, Non-Partisan Leaguers and profiteers together. "They're all the same," he said.

Now, of course, Judge Landis was only talking to please his audience, a trick practically all orators use. He knew what the American Protective League would like to hear, and he delivered it in good round terms. But he didn't really mean to demand a change in the constitutional definition of treason, and he wouldn't really shoot a Socialist, or an I. W. W. if he caught one of them red-handed. He was blowing off steam. The good judge was imitating the Reds in this, just as we all do at times; we get excited, whether we are United States senators, judges, congressmen, candidates for office or just plain citizens and voters. We explode from the excess of hot air in our systems.

No, Judge Landis doesn't want the constitution amended, either in its definition of treason, or in its provision for protection of free speech. Because if we should begin to limit free speech, how would Judge Landis explode when he feels like advocating "force and violence" in the treatment of those with whom he happens to be at the moment in political disagreement?—Long Beach Telegram.

Becker is 84. His wife is younger. She's only 80.

The husband declared in court his octogenarian spouse has two affinities.

Mrs. Becker denied the "affinity" accusation.

Personals

Mrs. Ernest W. Bennett and her little daughter, Mary, of 318 West Doran Street, are quite ill of influenza.

Mrs. Dixon of Mira Loma Avenue has gone to Oklahoma to visit her sister. She expects to be gone until about the first of April.

Mrs. Robert Blackburn reports that her father is gaining slowly but steadily, and she is indulging the hope that he will completely recover.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hull Hearne of San Pedro spent Monday at the home of Mrs. L. Kirri of 230 South Louise Street. Mr. Hearne is an officer at the sub base in San Pedro.

Mrs. Segar of Riverdale Drive was operated upon Thursday by Dr. T. C. Young at the Westlake hospital. Mrs. Segar is reported to be resting comfortably.

Miss Carol Duncan and a group of her girl pupils in the Intermediate are taking a hike today into the Verdugo hills for a picnic outing and search for wild flowers.

Conductor Anderson of Eagle Rock car No. 1 is confined to his home by an attack of influenza. Myrvin Mills is serving as substitute and looks very official in his conductor's cap and suit.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McCourt and children of 336 North Central Avenue, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey, who have been guests in her home for about ten days, have gone to the beach for the day.

Mr. C. E. Blake of 923 North Louise Street reports the sale of a beautiful five-room bungalow at 352 Salem Street, to Mr. C. O. Pulliam of Pulliam & Kiefer. The Pulliams expect to move immediately to their new home.

Miss Gertrude Mallory, one of the English teachers in the High School, in cranking her Ford automobile on Wednesday, broke her wrist. An X-ray was taken of it, but how serious the break will prove to be has not been learned.

The sick folks are being released from quarantine and life is becoming more normal in Glednale. V. M. Hollister has returned to business, Mrs. John Robert White and her two sons are very much better and able to be up part of the day, and good reports are coming in from other victims of influenza.

Reports from the home of C. W. Ingledue of 501 East Wilson indicate that Miss Helen, who has had the influenza, has so far recovered as to be able to be downstairs for a portion of the day. The family is looking forward to the lifting of the quarantine which will probably be the first of next week.

Mrs. Oscar N. Denison of 336 Mira Loma Avenue is gradually recovering the use of a severely sprained foot. The accident which disabled her occurred about four weeks ago. Her niece, Mrs. Mary Williams, who came West in November and has been in the Denison home ever since, has recently returned to her home in the East.

Mr. P. E. Cory, who has recently bought the property known as the Andrew Findlay place at 820 South Central Avenue, is now in possession of his purchase. He is manager of the Western Building and Investment Company of Los Angeles and sold a home which he owned in Hollywood to buy here. He and Mrs. Cory like Glendale very much and will put their ten-year-old daughter in school here.

Mrs. J. T. Anderson and son of Oakland are house guests of Mrs. L. Kirri of 230 South Louise Street. They arrived Tuesday, having been delayed several days in Bakersfield on account of heavy rains in that section which made it unsafe to travel by machine. Mrs. Kirri and her guest are old school chums. They are planning many trips to surrounding points of interest, among them a visit to Catalina during Mrs. Anderson's three weeks' sojourn in the southern part of the state.

Mrs. A. M. Houk, of 131 North Alto Street, Los Angeles, was in Glendale Wednesday to attend to some business matters. Mrs. Houk was a resident of Glendale for years up to last January when she rented her home and moved to Los Angeles so as to be near Lincoln High School, where her son teaches, for the remainder of the school year. Her oldest son, Floyd Houk, who is connected with government work in Panama, is home on a hundred and twenty-day furlough. He came via boat to New Orleans and thence by rail to Los Angeles arriving here in January. It was a great surprise to his mother, who had no idea he had been granted a furlough or even of his intention to apply for one. Mrs. Houk has a host of friends in Glendale who will be glad to know that she has only rented her home at 1128 East Broadway and does not intend to sell the old home place. While she likes Los Angeles, she still feels that Glendale will be her only real home.

SAD NEWS FROM EAST

MRS. W. H. DOTSON ADVISED OF DEATH OF BROTHER AND SISTER-IN-LAW

Mrs. W. H. Dotson of 333 West Harvard Street is grief stricken over news which has reached her concerning relatives in Ottawa, Kas., where influenza and pneumonia have taken a more fatal form than here. On Monday last week her oldest brother passed away of the malady, the following Friday his wife died, and the same day at a later hour her brother who had come to assist them in their trouble, also expired. At that time Mrs. Dotson's mother, who was living with them in Ottawa, was lying at the point of death. Letters which she has received gave little hope of the mother's recovery, but a subsequent telegram stated that there had been a slight change for the better. Under the circumstances Mrs. Dotson can not concentrate her mind on anything except this trouble and from hour to hour watches for the postman or a telegraph messenger. Having received no further discouraging news, she is cherishing the hope that her mother is on the road to recovery. Her brother and his wife left three little children, the oldest only four years of age. She states that one of her friends, Mr. Shimmer of this city, has just had a telegram announcing the death of his daughter of influenza, leaving five little children. Mrs. Dotson thinks the people of Glendale can not be too thankful for the favorable climatic conditions here and the fact that the disease here is manifesting itself in a mild form. Her 2 children who have been out of school since the second of January on account of whooping cough are now out of quarantine and quite restored to health.

PINK AND LAVENDER LUNCHEON

A prettily appointed luncheon was given Thursday by Mrs. Robert Wallace at 122 North Cedar Street. Covers were laid for six, the table decorations carrying out a pink and lavender color scheme in which hyacinths and Cherokee roses were combined with tulle ribbon with charming effect. The guests were Mrs. Chester Malcolm and Mrs. Eugene Lille of Chicago, Mrs. Roswell Allen and daughter, Miss Isabel Allen of Los Angeles, Mrs. George P. Reuter of Glendale. Following the luncheon a pleasant afternoon was spent by the ladies over the card tables.

Mrs. Wallace has leased the pretty home of Mrs. Dale, who is now with her sister on North Edwards Street, Los Angeles. She expects to leave for a tour of the East in the near future and to be gone about six months.

Mrs. Edgar Fry of Cerritos Avenue and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bancroft, motored to Pasadena yesterday for luncheon.

Russell Hughes on Mira Loma Avenue has been quite sick of influenza, but is not regarded as dangerously ill.

The You and I Club, which was to have met with Mrs. Horning on Wednesday, postponed its meeting because of the "flu" epidemic.

The children of Mrs. R. M. Jones of Cerritos Avenue, who have been ill of influenza, are now out of quarantine.

Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly who disposed of her home on South San Fernando Road and is now living in an apartment on Fifteenth Street in Los Angeles was in Glendale Thursday and called on some of her old friends. Her niece is spending the winter with her and she is very pleasantly situated, but she misses her pleasant home grounds on San Fernando.

The little ladies will be delighted with our showing of children's hats.

A town in Iowa has adopted an original way to raise money to pave streets. The residents feel too poor or too stingy to pay for paving, so the town is closing the streets that are least used, and cutting them up into lots to sell to raise money for paving other streets. In adopting this plan the town is betting its citizens that it will never grow. Such confidence in the future should be an inspiration to all outsiders to stay away from the place, to keep it from ever awaking from its dream of rest.

and Broadway and Harvard streets, was taken up. Attorney Bert Woodard appeared as the representative of C. A. Bunting, one of the protestants. He read the protest of Mr. Bunting, owner of lots 1 and 10, and also spoke as representative of Mr. Carney, a protestant owning lots 15 and 16. Mr. Woodard presented the case as to the various protestants, stating the conditions as he understood them to exist. He further stated that Mr. Bunting is ready to deed to the City that portion of his property that would be required for the opening and continuation of the alley southward to Harvard Street.

Mr. James McBryde, representing protestants J. W. and Hannah H. Fairchild, and David C. Carney, followed in a presentation of the law in regard to the case, and an argument based upon the same tending to show, among other things, that the closing of the alley instead of being a public benefit will be a detriment, instead of being a benefit to the city at large will be a benefit to interested private owners only. He stated that as a matter of fact the tenant on lot 1 is now in actual use of the alley.

Mr. Woodard spoke again asserting that the closing of any alley in a growing city is against the public interest. On motion of Trustee Jackson the hearing was continued for one week, until eight o'clock p. m. March 4, 1920.

Mr. J. E. Carpenter now presented to the Board a written application for permit to erect a building at the corner of San Fernando Road and Park Avenue for the manufacture of clay products. On motion of Trustee Jackson permit was granted.

Sanitary Inspector

Report was read from the Sanitary Inspector, showing fifty-one (51) cases of influenza developed during the week just ended.

Bids Opened

At this time it was ordered that bids to furnish the Public Service Department with supplies were read from the H. Mueller Manufacturing Company, N. O. Nelson Manufacturing Company, James Jones Company.

On motion of Trustee Shaw it was ordered that the bid of James Jones Company be accepted, and it was so ordered.

Demands

Demands were presented and referred to the Finance Committee. The Finance Committee reported back demands approved and on motion of Trustee Shaw warrants were ordered to be issued in payment of the same.

The City Manager reported that on account of extra work on account of inspection, it is desirable that the City purchase another Ford automobile. On motion of Trustee Henry the City Clerk was instructed to advertise for bids to supply the city with one four-cylinder automobile. Bids to be opened at eight o'clock p. m., March 18, 1920.

City Attorney

The City Attorney reported that the District Court of Appeals, in the case of Mitchell vs. the City of Glendale, involving the legality of the annexation of the Grand Avenue District to the City of Glendale, has given a decision in favor of the city.

He also reported that in the case of Herald vs. the Elks' Club of Glendale, involving the question of the validity of Glendale's liquor ordinance, an opinion has been rendered by Judge Jackson to the effect that the ordinance is a valid regulation.

City ordinances having been presented by the agent of the Standard Oil Company with a request for their adoption, the same were referred to the City Attorney to report upon at the next regular meeting.

POLISH GIRLS EN ROUTE FOR WARSAW

Ten "Polish Grey Samaritans"—girls of Polish birth or parentage, but all educated in America, and five of them American citizens, sailed for Poland on December 20th for the Young Women's Christian Association, to do relief work under the Polish government.

These girls are graduates of the Polish Grey Samaritan School conducted by the Y. W. C. A. in New York last year, where seventy-five Polish girls studied health education, economics, cooking, social visiting, physical training and allied subjects for nine months, after some preliminary training in their homes. The first detachment sailed in July, shortly after the close of the school, and is now working in Warsaw directing soup kitchens, orphanages and doing case work among soldiers' families. The arrival of this unit will release some of the first group for work in other parts of Poland.

Four Y. W. C. A. secretaries are accompanying these Samaritans to act as councillors during the trip. They are Miss Hettie Anderson of Nashville, Ill.; Miss Ruth Woodsmall of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Miss Augusta Mettel of St. Paul, Minn., and Miss Amy Topping of New Ratford, New York. The Polish girls come from all over the country. Miss Mary Gach and Miss Helen A. Chmielewska are from Detroit, Miss Felicia Kruterwicz and Miss Caroline Slawinska are from St. Louis, Miss Stanislawa Lysakowaka is from Pittsburg, Miss Stella Kendziorksa is from Milwaukee, Miss Annette Friebe is from Rochester, N. Y., Miss Josephine Tarkowska and Miss Helen Cichowicz are from Cleveland, and Miss Eleanor Wasielewska is from Minneapolis.

Social workers are so few in Poland, and the need so great, that almost every city in the country sent in an appeal for one of the first contingent of Samaritans as soon as they heard of their arrival on Polish soil.

The Polish people are anxious to learn the best possible methods of relieving the appalling poverty and misery in their own country—the Poland which is at last free from German, Russian and Austrian domination. The Polish Grey Samaritans hope in time to establish a school for social service to help supply the demand for workers along this line.

tory in the building owned by Maj. John A. Payne at the junction of Central Avenue and San Fernando Road. The matter was referred to the City Manager for investigation, because the proposed location is entirely outside the industrial district as fixed by ordinance. It will be remembered that the industrial district in that section is bounded on the west by the Southern Pacific Railroad and extends east of that line for about 150 feet. The Payne block is beyond the 150-foot limit. In conversation with the manager following the meeting Mr. Russell explained that his company desired to use the Payne block for a temporary location only, in the expectation that in the course of a year it will be sufficiently organized to be justified in getting a permanent location in the industrial district. The matter will be again taken up before the Board of Trustees at its next meeting.

The Carpenter permit, which was granted, is partly within and partly without the industrial district, and is therefore a special permit. The kilns and factory portion will all be within the industrial zone, only the salesroom exceeding the boundaries and extending to San Fernando Road.

The Standard Oil Company, through one of its representatives, asked for a permit to construct a spur track across San Fernando Road into its prospective site for its wholesale filling station at the corner of Colorado and San Fernando Road. The application was in the form of an ordinance which was referred to City Attorney Evans.

N. Y. FARMERS TO REAP MINT HARVEST

LYONS, N. Y., Feb. 27.—(United Press).—When John Barleycorn passed on, friends predicted an early demise for one of his chief lieutenants, mint for the julep. Recent developments here not only have assured the ingredient will not die, but a fair degree of prosperity is promised him for his declining years.

Since 1814 the country surrounding Lyons has been plentifully planted in mint, but when the prices were low farmers declined to cultivate the plant systematically. Now that prices for peppermint oil have advanced to above $8 a pound, however, concerted efforts are being exerted to produce mint in large quantities.

Contracts recently were let for erection of two large distilleries and farmers have announced they intend to devote many more acres than ever before to raising mint.

"What became of Piute Pete?" asked the visitor at Crimson Gulch. "He joined the army," answered Broncho Bob. "Thought he was too old to fight." "He was. But he was such a fighter that nobody dast tell him so."—Washington Star.

"Why don't you make an oration on this subject?" asked the admiring friend.

"I've quit making orations," replied Senator Sorghum. "I find too often that when I make a speech in favor of something I simply suggest ideas for some new arguments against it."—Washington Evening Star.

EASY MATTER NOW, NABBIN' KAINTUCK'S "MOONSHINERS"

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 27.—(United Press).—Moonshining in Kentucky is far different from the swashbuckling, romantic, feud-like pictures seen in the movies or described in popular fiction.

That is what John W. Menzies says about it. And Menzies ought to know as much about moonshining as anybody else. He is clerk of the Federal Court of the Eastern District of Kentucky and listens to scores of such cases in any session of the six courts in his district.

Seldom do the "revenoors" and the mountaineers engage in spectacular rifle battles—so popular a generation ago, Menzies said. When a United States Marshal wants a "moonshiner" to appear in court to answer a charge he frequently goes to the phone and says something like this:

"Hello, Bill. The judge wants to see you at 9 o'clock tomorrow."

And Bill usually shows up.

There is plenty of moonshining going on now in the hills of Eastern Kentucky, according to government reports. War-time prohibition got it started anew, and now constitutional aridness has boosted the movement along. But the "whisky" makers are amateurs, who not only are easily caught but who produce a brand of drink that is poisonous even to the metal-lined stomachs of the mountaineers themselves.

"Who Shot" is the newest brand of moonshine liquor made. It has recently been added to the famous old "Mountain Dew" and "White Lightnin.'" It is made from a recipe that includes potato peelings and practically everything else in the mountains that will produce alcohol.

And it is said to be "mighty pow'ful."

Prices of the brews have advanced, like everything else. A gallon that used to bring 75 cents to $1.50 now brings $12 to $15.

Menzies said an average "run" of a "still" is from nine to twelve gallons, and there is usually about a gallon for each person at a "still party." They drink all they can fresh from the "worm" and then carry the rest away in crock jars.

THE CAT RANCH

The advertising manager of a big savings bank, wanting to teach a lesson on the subject of unsafe investments, placed a big sign in the window, headed:

"Glorious Opportunity to Get Rich Quick. Invest Now!"

Below, it was announced that the "California Ranching Company" was being organized to go into the business of raising cat fur for the market. There was to be a "cat ranch" with 100,000 cats. Their skins would sell for 30 cents apiece. One hundred men, it was explained, could skin 5000 cats a day, and thus the company "figured on a net profit of $10,000 a day."

More wonderful even than this arithmetic was the explanation of how the cats were to be fed. A "rat ranch" was to be started near the cat ranch, with 1,000,000 rats. The rats were to be fed to the cats. And how were the rats themselves to be fed? Very simple! On the carcasses of the skinned cats. The cats would eat the rats, and the rats would eat the cats, and so there would be no expense for food.

"Shares are selling at 5 cents each, but the price will go up soon," concluded the announcement. "Invest now while opportunity knocks on your front door."

Below this wild advertisement, was a confidential statement reading as follows:

"Some gullible people will try to buy this stock. It's foolish fake, of course, but no more foolish than many wildcat schemes being promoted today. Investigate before investing. Don't hand your money over to any unknown glib tongued salesman."

Now, what do you suppose the public did about it? The ad remained in the window four days, and then the bank people had to take it away, because they were bothered so by people coming in and trying to buy stock in that imaginary company!

"Up to the time we removed it" says the manager, "we received 60 serious inquiries. And you'd be surprised at the character of the inquiries. They were, almost without exception, business men of considerable standing. Some of them had read the warning, but they believed the ad and didn't believe the warning."

No wonder the "wild cat" companies are fleecing the American people out of half a billion dollars a year!

Every now and then it is said of one statesman or another that he is riding for a fall. Presumably the fall of 1920.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
